LOCAL NEWS IN BRIEF

Iron County society to meet

CEDAR CITY — The theme for the February Iron County Historical Society meeting will be "Memories of Zion National Park: Oral History from the 2009 Centennial Celebration." The meeting is Wednesday at 7 p.m., Frontier Homestead State Park, 635 N. Main Street.

During the 100th anniversary celebration at Zion National Park, an employee reunion was held. The Utah Humanities Council and Utah State Historical Society partnered with the Sherratt Library and Zion National Park to record 30 oral histories with park employees of decades past and those histories are the basis for this meeting.

The presentation includes clips from the recorded histories of NPS, UPC and TWA employees. We invite all former employees of the Utah Parks Company or TW Services who worked at Zion to come to this meeting and share your memories on the program.

All Iron County Historical Society meetings are free and open to the public.
