

UTAH HUMANITIES & VILLAGE SQUARE UTAH PRESENT

OUR SEASON OF DISCONTENT

COMMUNITY CONVERSATIONS THAT PUT THE FUN BACK INTO DEMOCRACY AND DIALOGUE IN 2016-2017

Is anyone in America NOT angry these days? Frustration is not the problem as long as we can still talk. But what happens when we can't even discuss our differences civilly? Let's NOT let that happen. Join us for a year of conversations dedicated to exploring how we can come together as Americans over some of our greatest disagreements. Details at UtahHumanities.org or VillageSquareUtah.org.

SEPTEMBER 27

Break the Ice (Cream), Season Kick Off Party

I scream, you scream, we all scream for ice cream. That's one thing we can all agree on. Come, hang out, and hear what all the "not" shouting is about.

NOVEMBER 1

Beyond the Bruising to a Better Community

Black lives matter. Blue lives matter. But does either matter enough to sit down and listen to each others hearts? We think so. Join us.

FEBRUARY 23

A Red-Blue Conversation on Climate Change with Joan Blades, Founder of Moveon.org and LivingRoomConversations

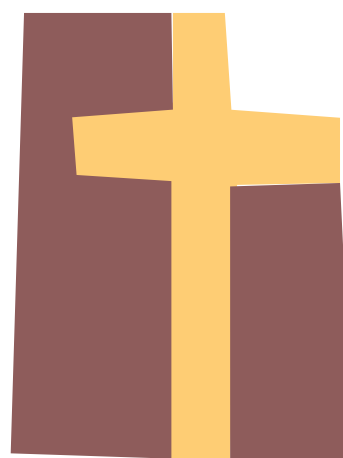

There's a change in the air—namely, we can talk about this topic civilly.

APRIL 13

Church and State: Married, Divorced, or in Need of Counseling?

If there's one thing most agree on—it's that this is a tough topic to come to agreement on. We'll suss through it both in state and country.

For over 40 years, Utah Humanities has been improving communities through active engagement in the humanities. The Village Square is a nervy group of liberals and conservatives who believe that dialogue and disagreement make for a good conversation, a good country and a good time.
