LEHI Pioneers vs. Thunders school ice cream contest

Enmanuel’s and Ethel’s on 100 East is sponsoring an ice cream contest between schools. The school with the most ice cream sold on Saturday, Oct. 22, will receive a new member for their respective club. If either school offers a $2 discount on their respective flavor with their receipt and application, they will receive a new member as well. Enmanuel’s and Ethel’s can be found on 100 East.

Pleasant Grove High School Band recalls crash, memory of instructor

Last October, one of four buses carrying band students home from a competition in Provo crashed, injuring 12 students and one instructor, Heather Christiansen. The band recalls the crash, remembering Heather’s memory.

The Springville Herald

Christi Babbitt,
Spanish Fork Press

DAILY HERALD • www.heraldextra.com

Join our community websites at willowcreekmiddle.org. Willowcreek Middle School is having a picture day make-up day for students.

Orem Reade Julie Berry leaves behind her prints in the world of children’s literature

Julie Berry, author of “The Amaranth Enchantment,” has published her new book, “Secondhand Enchantment.” The book is about a girl’s experience of finding, buying and selling, and it is the second book of “Enchantment” series. Julie Berry is a writer who has spent many years of her life writing for children and young adults. She has also written several novels that are considered bestsellers in the field of children’s literature.

In the book, Julie Berry tells the story of a girl named Lily who discovers an old book in a thrift store. The book, “The Amaranth Enchantment,” is a magical book that can change the world. Lily becomes passionate about the book and decides to buy it, but she soon realizes that the book has a different meaning for everyone who reads it. The book explores themes of friendship, family, and the power of imagination.

“The Amaranth Enchantment” is the first book of the “Enchantment” series and it has been praised for its unique storyline and engaging characters.

Julie Berry’s book, “Secondhand Enchantment,” is the second book of the series and it continues the story of Lily and her friends as they explore the magic of the enchanted books. The book is a perfect read for children of all ages and it has been praised for its beautiful illustrations and engaging storyline.

Julie Berry has spent many years of her life writing for children and young adults. She has also written several novels that are considered bestsellers in the field of children’s literature. Julie Berry’s new book, “Secondhand Enchantment,” is a perfect read for children of all ages and it has been praised for its beautiful illustrations and engaging storyline.

Barbara Christiansen (Daily Herald)

Pleasant Grove High School band member shown a dag tag worn by all members of memorial to her teacher Heather Christiansen in a service held at the Alpine Tabernacle in Pleasant Grove on Oct. 22, 2010.

Barbara Christiansen (Daily Herald)

Pleasant Grove High School band member shown a dag tag worn by all members of memorial to her teacher Heather Christiansen in a service held at the Alpine Tabernacle in Pleasant Grove on Oct. 22, 2010.

Barbara Christiansen (Daily Herald)

Pleasant Grove High School band member shown a dag tag worn by all members of memorial to her teacher Heather Christiansen in a service held at the Alpine Tabernacle in Pleasant Grove on Oct. 22, 2010.